

Product Recommendation API

- so to make the API works for multiple models
- we will use a Factory Design pattern to achieve this approach
- so the REST API will call Model Handler
- Model Handler will call the interface of Model Loader with implementing the needed model
- ex : if the we need to consume model X from the API , we call API to call the handler with Implementing the model Loader interface with Model X .